Philip Battiade, a highly regarded innovator on the healing and medical front, is opening the first Infusio European Medical Center in the United States. He is bringing his cutting edge approach for the treatment of chronic ailments, disease, and the complications of aging to Beverly Hills, California. For the past two decades, patients who were thought to be without hope or sometimes even diagnosis have traveled to his world renowned clinic in Frankfurt, Germany for Phil's special brand of integrative treatments with positive results.

This British Naturopath has developed a unique approach to treatment—innovation through integration—combining the newest developments in modern and integrative medicine, taking it out of the doctor’s sterile office and placing diagnosis and treatment into a relaxed atmosphere thus redefining the patient doctor relationship.

Battiade is a sought after international speaker, television and radio guest, medical consultant, educator, researcher and pioneer in chronic disease treatment, rehabilitation healthcare and cutting edge anti-aging technology. In 2007, he started the “Infusio Concept” as the culmination of his research and treatment success and established his Five Steps to Health, the foundation of the Infusio approach. The Five Steps to Health are Immune Modulation, Substitution, Detoxification, Disease-Specific Treatment, Mind-Body Medicine. Phil has developed a network of some of the world’s top physicians helping them to provide treatment outside of their home countries. The Infusio Concept has been internationally recognized and has now led to the opening of satellite clinics around the world (India, Malaysia and China). These five key components address the fundamental functions of our physical and emotional balance while considering the unique make-ups and needs of each patient.

Battiade has partnered with fellow practitioners on his research in developing his treatment. At the University of Guadalajara in Mexico, he worked with Dr. Aldalberto Vezquez-Garcia and the Center of Investigation on Integrative Medicine to research the utilization of autologous stem cell therapies in various treatments. He also has a long-standing collaboration with Drs. Heinz Mastall and Milan Pesic from Germany, studying the use of thymus extracts and organ peptides in therapy. Thymus and peptide extracts have shown promise in the treatment of various immune, viral, and bacterial disorders.

Phil holds degrees and certifications from a number of prestigious institutions including the University of London, The McKenzie Institute, The Proleben Clinic and the University of Heidelberg in Germany. He has completed post graduate fellowships and specialized post graduate study at the University of Ghana. He has also been a major healthcare volunteer setting up and working at medical clinics and training personnel in Africa and India. He has a passion for educating fellow practitioners in his breakthrough techniques and for empowering patients to live long and healthy lives with renewed vigor.

Phil is fluent in eight languages and is an accomplished classical musician and artist.

“Research is a science; Medicine an art.”
WHY DO WE WEAR CLOTHES?

While clothes may have been conceived to protect our fragile bodies from the elements, they have now turned into a form of armor and disguise. Not only are they used to camouflage blotches, bulges, wrinkles and rings, but we use them as a nonverbal form of communication: “I am cool; I am with it; I work hard for my money; I don’t care what society thinks.” We cram our bodies into ill-fitting uniforms and slowly lose touch with who and what we really are. Clothes have become so important to us, that many of us do not feel comfortable without them; not even when we are alone at home. We have learned to dislike the feeling of our body interacting with the environment. We feel our bodies are unsightly or we are ashamed of our proportions, preferring to hide the corpus delicti than to face the fact that things have to change. It is time to relearn self-perception, accept who we really are and then plan the steps we need for self improvement.

THE ALLERGY MYTH

Is our world really so bad that we all seem to be allergic to it? Everyone knows someone who is allergic to dairy or allergic to wheat or allergic to perfume or allergic to nuts or allergic to fish or all of the above. When we were young, the worst allergies we knew were bee stings and hay fever. Is it time for us to buy ourselves plastic bubbles to live in to be safe and protected from our toxic environment or will our allergy to PVCs have us breaking out in hives before we have even taken it out of the wrapper? Unfortunately, many people confuse intolerance with allergy. Sometimes our immune system is just so mixed up that it over-reacts to just about everything and our intestines are so mixed up that we can no longer break down histamine. Is the answer to blast it with a round of immune suppressants, or can we change our life styles and habits to accommodate our immune system and let it do what it’s supposed to do? Understanding the difference between allergy and intolerance may change the way we manage our health or, even better, allow us to enjoy our health.

STOP WHINING! GET HEALTHY!

Do we really need a pill or potion for every little ache, pain or cough? Do we really need to run to the health care professional every time we feel a little down? Nowadays, it seems that everyone talks about MY Doctor, MY Dentist, MY Psychiatrist, MY Chiropractor, MY Massage Therapist, MY Osteopath, MY Trainer and MY Counselor. Amazing that even the healthiest of us can’t seem to survive without a team of medical professionals to guide, help and protect us through life’s challenges. It’s time to realize that managing disease is big business and that curing it could leave us feeling bored. If we really want to be in control, then we have to start making decisions about our health and lifestyle by ourselves. Accepting that we are responsible for the outcome of our health and that antibiotics are not the key to happiness may revolutionize the way we live our lives. When we learn that communication works better than Xanax and that sleep deprivation is not called ADD then we can stop whining about our lives and finally get ourselves healthy.

ANTIBIOTICS

According to the CDC, as many as four out of five Americans may be getting antibiotics each year. On an average, every person in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee was prescribed antibiotics at least once per year. In comparison, only a little over half of Californians, Oregonians and Alaskans received the magic pill. Whose fault is that? Interestingly, Dr. Len Horovitz, at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York City, noted that he sees patients every day who want and expect to get antibiotics. He says, “Intelligent people have magical thinking: problem, solution, cure. They don’t ride out problems in their professional life, they solve them.” This causes them to expect a quick fix to their cold, sinus and flu symptoms. None of which can be treated with antibiotics, as they are viral infections against which antibiotics are useless. So Americans – do your duty! Rather than just bomb with antibiotics suck it up! A cold takes seven days with antibiotics and a week without. Save the bomb for where it is really works and stop harassing your doctor more than needed.
WELLNESS PROGRAM
Rejuvenation, Prevention, and Medical Protocols

REJUVENATION

Rejuvenation is a set of spa and wellness treatments designed to improve health and vitality. Infusio’s spa-like medical treatments combine nutrition and detoxification to help to replenish the body and restore it to a more youthful state. We use the term “best-aging.”

Specific treatments may include:
- Herb Pistil - whole body massage with a steamed herb pouch
- Aroma Therapy - whole body massage with essential oils
- Bodywork - signature gentle body manipulation to relieve stress and tension
- Facelift - non-surgical methods for smooth skin
- Best Aging - treatments to make you feel and look your best
- Stem Cell Therapy - using your own stem cells to boost health and wellness
- Colon Hydrotherapy - ideal for intestinal cleansing
- Cleansing Therapies - natural support for body detox
- Nutrition - guidance towards a healthier diet

PREVENTION

Prevention is better than cure, and how much more so when it comes to our health. The Infusio Concept consists of medical, biological, nutritional and bioenergetic screening coupled with individualized education. This is designed to help you identify personalized risk factors and predispositions and to provide you with preventative solutions.

Specific Treatments May Include:
- Integrative Biological Dental Screening - Dental imaging combined with whole body thermography and neural therapy can indicate a connection between physical symptoms and dental issues.
- Nutrition Screening - Identifies factors in diet that may be impacting one’s health - not only what you eat but when you eat it, the combinations you eat, the way you prepare and store it and much more. This also identifies food allergies and intolerances.
- Integrative Disease Screening - Screening uses biological markers, imaging, live blood analysis, bioenergetics, thermography and other modern methods to identify signs of disease.
- Bioenergetic Screening - This revealing profile shows out the body processes energy and where these pathways may be disturbed. This noninvasive method is used to measure vital parameters, test for allergies and looks at pathogens in the body. It can also indicate the body’s hormone state and mineral balance.
- Safe Amalgam Removal - An intricate series of integrated steps to remove amalgam based fillings.
- Executive Physical - A comprehensive health screening including laboratory screening, bioenergetics, physical exam, imaging and extensive consultation to identify current and potential health issues.

MEDICAL

Many patients understand the importance of an integrative approach to medicine when treating disease. Our Medical protocol is a fusion of cutting edge medical treatment and the last technologies in integrative and complementary medicine looking at the patient NOT just at symptoms.

- Integrative Approach - Our innovative approach to disease management uses a wide range of treatment options in order to find the one most suited to an individual’s needs.
- Bioenergetics - Disturbances in the way the body process energy often give important clues to the root cause of symptoms. We employ a range of groundbreaking scientific devices to monitor and treat the body’s energetic pathways.
- 5 Steps to Health - All of our medical programs utilize this approach which involves supporting the immune system; removing harmful toxins; giving the body the nutrients it needs to get better. The mind-body aspect of disease is also addressed as a path towards healing.
- Biological Dentistry - Disease often begins in the mouth. Root canals, gum disease and bone infection are a source of viruses and bacteria. Biological dentistry looks at the impact these problems may have on our overall health.
- Disease Therapies - Our integrative approach offers specific cancer therapies and treatment of chronic and degenerative diseases.
WHAT IS U BODYWORK?
Rejuvenation, Prevention, and Medical Protocols

An important aspect of The Infusio Concept is U Bodywork. A fast-paced life and emotional stress can have a strong impact on the way our bodies feel and function. It can cause muscle tightness, body aches and digestive dysfunction. We may find when we want to relax, our mind won’t let us. The U Bodywork program helps individuals identify and recognize the stress patterns in their life which are visible in their bodies.

The U Bodywork program involves establishing healthy alignments in the body to enable effective metabolism within the cells and to ensure smooth movement of the muscles, joints and organs. U Bodywork helps the body achieve physical, mental and emotional balance.

Touch can trigger the release of a cascade of neurotransmitters and hormones, all of which have a profound effect on the way we feel and how our body deals with stress. Our ability to concentrate, to learn, to love and to relax is coupled with the ‘soup’ of chemicals and hormones that the body releases.

A natural and safe way to influence this fine balance and to help the body self-heal is through therapeutic touch and movement.

WHAT IS THYMUS THERAPY?
Rejuvenation, Prevention, and Medical Protocols

Thymus Therapy is the most important factor in immune therapy. The initial therapy involves a series of thymus extract injections which activate and balance the body’s immune system. We call this immune modulation and it is very different than simply boosting the immune system. The goal is to establish a healthy immune cell ratio rather than just produce more immune cells.

In 1960 the Australian immunologist J. Miller discovered the function of the thymus gland. The gland - located just behind the sternum on top of the heart - is the center of our immune system. It is largest and most active early in life; by the early teens it begins to shrink and as we reach our 50s, only about 15% of the thymus gland still functions. This leads to a significant increase in immune related diseases such as infections, cancer, and autoimmune disease as we get older.

The thymus gland literally produces and “educates” cells that monitor and patrol our bodies attacking and destroying foreign cells. Scientific research has shown how vital it is to wellness that these cells exist in a healthy ratio to ensure the body’s ability to coordinate an accurate immune response.

The use of thymus extracts has been extremely well researched with more than 1400 scientific studies and case reports focusing on the use of cell extracts. The therapy originated in Sweden with Dr. Elis Sandberg. In addition to the treatment of a host of common ailments from allergies and asthma to sleep and skin disorders, many of Dr. Sandberg’s patients experienced significant anti-aging affects.
GLOBAL DIAGNOSTICS OVERVIEW

A diagnostic procedure frequently used at the Infusio European Medical Center

A major challenge in medicine is the substantial increase in the number of chronically ill patients with multiple ailments. Conventional diagnostic methods may reveal important indicators of strains, but rarely detect the underlying regulatory blockades hindering the body’s healing. In case of multiple complaints, the question arises: which therapeutic stimulus does the body react to, if at all?

Each body part and every body system, whether healthy or diseased, has a specific reaction pattern to weak, external stimuli. On the basis of this reaction pattern, valuable conclusions can be drawn on the energetic state and the functionality of the examined organs and systems.

Based on advanced technology, a novel, physical measuring method has been developed, with which energetic structures can be measured and visualized.

This measuring system, Global Diagnostics, automatically records and analyzes the patient’s energetic reaction pattern in less than ten minutes. The analysis covers more than 550 points like nerves, muscles, joints, organs etc and measures 13 body systems. After the diagnostic has finished, the results are displayed immediately.

Collecting and displaying bioenergetic data with Global Diagnostics is based solely on physics and does not rely on input from the therapist, preventing skewed data. Thus, a wide variety of medical practitioners and therapists can benefit from the results, regardless of his or her therapy methods.

“Treat the patient, not the disease.”
As with many Infusio patients, Bette A. came to the German clinic in great distress with neurological symptoms that manifested as dizziness, brain fog and difficulty speaking, and her liver was severely compromised by toxins of Bonelia Burgdorferi. However, after just 10 days of integrative treatment with the Infusio stem cell protocol, Bette A. felt better and no trace of Bonelia was found in further scans. Two out of three liver laboratory values were within normal parameters after 10 days of treatment.

Phil acknowledges that his brand of health care is often on the forefront of what’s new in the evolution of medical treatments for a variety of universal conditions. In some quarters, The Infusio Concept may seem at odds with western practices, but the German trained European pioneer, who counts numerous celebrities among his clientele, often embraces its unique approach in combination with time-proven methods of alternative care, especially for patients who have given up on traditional treatment protocols.

In describing his brand of health care, Phil talks about his 5 steps/360 degree approach. As an example, rather than taking the one pill per symptom approach popular in western circles, Phil takes on the most difficult patient care scenarios and helps find longterm quality of life and relief by modulating the immune system through thymus therapy and other breakthrough antidotes that comprise a “cocktail” of effective remedies.
